For this part of the testing, I used a VS Code extension called 'W3C Web Validator' and did each page individually. They are labelled as their file names in case you need to check, to avoid any confusion. I have researched and explained each unique error message that was shown. Some of the same errors I didn't explain again. The text in the light is the code that was in the file, and the text in bold is the error message I had. No errors were found in the CSS file.

Home Page (bootstrapindex.html)

The first issue we face is in the navbar, where the image's width is set to 461.25, which causes an error because the code expects a string of digits with no decimals.

Bad value "461.25" for attribute "width" on element "img": Expected a digit but saw "." instead.`error(W3C_validation)`

This error is caused by the div not having a specific role like dialog, region, etc.

<div class="modal fade" id="exampleModal" tabindex="-1"
aria-labelledby="exampleModalLabel" aria-hidden="true">

The "aria-labelledby" attribute must not be specified on any "div" element unless the element has a "role" value other than "caption", "code", "deletion", "emphasis", "generic", "insertion", "paragraph", "presentation", "strong", "subscript", or "superscript".`error(W3C_validation)`

This id was duplicated

Duplicate ID "navbarScroll".`error(W3C_validation)`

Focus Page (0Product:2026-27 Argentina Away Shirt.html)

This page had a lot of previously mentioned errors, so I will repeat them once for each error.

img src="assets/images/Logo.png" alt="Logo" width="461.25" height="164.25">

Bad value "461.25" for attribute "width" on element "img": Expected a digit but saw "." instead.`error(W3C_validation)`

<div class="modal fade" id="exampleModal" tabindex="-1"
aria-labelledby="exampleModalLabel" aria-hidden="true">

The "aria-labelledby" attribute must not be specified on any "div" element unless the element has a "role" value other than "caption", "code", "deletion", "emphasis", "generic", "insertion", "paragraph", "presentation", "strong", "subscript", or "superscript".error(W3C_validation)

This image doesn't contain an alt attribute.

An "img" element must have an "alt" attribute, except under certain conditions. For details, consult guidance on providing text alternatives for images.error(W3C_validation)

Without a 'src', the browser won't be able to locate the image.

<img id="lb-img">

Element "img" is missing one or more of the following attributes: "src", "srcset".error(W3C_validation)

Products Page (2526season.html)

Bad value "461.25" for attribute "width" on element "img": Expected a digit but saw "." instead.error(W3C_validation)

This 'a' tag has spaces in it (Man*Utd*Third*Shirt). This was repeated for all products on the page.

Bad value "1Product:2025-26 Man Utd Third Shirt.html" for attribute "href" on element "a": Illegal character in path segment. Space is not allowed.

Duplicate ID "navbarScroll".error(W3C_validation)

Cart Page (cart.html)

Bad value "461.25" for attribute "width" on element "img": Expected a digit but saw "." instead.error(W3C_validation)

This error occurs when you go from an h1 to an h3 without an h2.

<h3>Your cart is empty</h3>

The heading "h3" (with computed level 3) follows the heading "h1" (with computed level 1), skipping 1 heading level.

Contact Page (contactus.html)

The UI is clean and minimalistic, and the colours are nice, which nowadays ticks a lot of viewers' boxes. Also, all the important sections are accessible at all times, or without scrolling too far. The countdown to the World Cup adds a lot of character, especially because it adds anticipation, and that may lead to more sales.

One thing that personally bothers me is that on the home page, below the countdown, there is a carousel which feels a bit too much, since there is a banner right on top of it. If it were moved to the bottom or removed completely, I think the website would look more polished.

The navigation bar and icons are way too big in my opinion, and they take up a lot of space for no real reason.

Another small change I would make in the Retro page is that the product names are left-aligned, while the prices are in the middle. I would either push the price to the left or make everything stick to the middle.

Moving on to functionality, I would add a checkout, because at this moment, it feels like there is nothing after the cart. Fix the add to cart button, which at this time works but returns to its original state after a few seconds. Maybe some errors or warnings could be implemented when a user types in the wrong format in the field, mainly on the account/login page. The contact page submit button doesn't work, so that would be an easy change that adds more to the page. Lastly, I would also add a Forgot password page.

Overall, this is a very well thought-out and put-together website, which achieves its main goals, which were:

- Lowered price on jerseys
- simple
- organised
- user-friendly
